Welcome back to the TENACITY Newsletter!

In this second edition, we're delighted to continue our journey with you, our valued subscriber, who has become an integral part of the TENACITY community through our official website. This issue builds on the foundation we laid in our inaugural newsletter, where we introduced the scope and objectives of the TENACITY Project. Today, we're excited to share the progress we've achieved since our first communication and our recent news and updates. Dive in as we detail the effort made in advancing our project's mission and outline what's on the horizon for TENACITY.

1st Training & Living Labs Workshop

We're thrilled to announce a major milestone: the successful launch of the 1st technology release of the TENACITY digital platform, featuring its modern and effective tools for exploitation of travel intelligence data by authorities. This landmark achievement was showcased at our 1st Training and Living Labs Workshop, hosted at KEMEA's premises in Athens, Greece.

The workshop brought together 63 participants, including project partners and key stakeholders from European Passenger Information Units and Competent Authorities, to dive deep into the functionalities and benefits of our platform. Designed following ISO 29993:2017 and CEPOL standards, the Training Workshop phase facilitated a rich exchange of insights through interactive presentations, quizzes, and group exercises. This collective effort not only demonstrated the robust capabilities of our platform but also set the stage for further enhancements and implementations. During the Living Lab Workshop phase, practitioners, belonging to 9 different PIUs, had a hands-on experience with the TENACITY tools allowing them to participate in preliminary validation of the system and feedback exchange through targeted discussions and surveys.

Stay tuned for more updates as we continue to pave the way for innovative solutions in crime prevention and public safety!
